GOLD TRAINING AWARD FOR MAXI

Maxi Haulage have received the Gold Award for the standard of training provided by the OPCOM system.

This is a system of training and business compliance that the Company have participated in for 5 years and is independently assessed by Roadskills to verify that our employees are properly trained and supervised in their activities.

The OPCOM system is just part of the training initiatives employed by the Company which has a well established Induction program for new employees and an ongoing development program for existing employees. This has led to the development of specialised skills such as forklift licensing and Hiab crane operating certificates. A particular focus of training recently has been the introduction of specialist customer instructions to ensure that the highest levels of service are provided to our customers.

The introduction of the Drivers Certificate of Professional Competence (CPC) in 2009 has resulted in the Company developing an in house NVQ course for our drivers in conjunction with North Warwickshire and Hinckley College which provides our drivers with a formal qualification and makes a contribution towards their CPC requirements. Training Manager, Carl Jeffs, is qualified to deliver the course and is planning to provide training to not only our own drivers but also to other parties such as subcontractors.
